CHOLERA IN EGYPT

OVER SEVENTEEN THOUSAND
DEATHS IN TWENTY DAYS

MARRIAGE OF REAR ADMIRAL

DALGHIREN.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON GOING TO

CA EMAY

LATE FROM NEWPORT NEWS

GOLD QUOTATIONS

DOINGS OF THE LATE JEFF

DAVIS MEETING

THE INDIAN COMMISSION

Washington, August 4

Consul General H. Mott, at Alexandria, Egypt, 23d, 24th, and 25th inst. in dispatch to the State Department, gives a vivid description of the ravages of the cholera in that city. There were 1,750 deaths from June 5th to July 17th. It is estimated that more than thirty thousand persons have died. At Alexandria since the cholera appeared on the 10th of June to the 7th ult. The most distressing reports are received from the interior.

New York, August 4

The Tribune this morning says we have told many from number of gentlemen present at the meeting of the friends of Jefferson Davis in this city, that much of the language used on that occasion was treacherous, and that the spirit of the meeting was unworthy.

Washington, August 4

Owing to the continued illness of the President, the Secretaries of Departments were informed that there would be no Cabinet meeting to-day.

Portland, August 4

Gen Grant and party started on an excursion
among the islands in the harbor this morning, and returned at 5 o'clock.

Porter's Monitor, August 4

The brig Maud and her crew arrived at New port News to-day from City Point, with French tobacco from Richmond.

Another effort was made to-day, to raise the U. S. S. Intrepid, Congress oil Newport News.
The attempt was unsuccessful, the steam not being sufficient to work all the pumps. The water is however, lowered three feet from the tide, in two hours. Another effort will be made to-day, but not before 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

New York, August 4

Rear Admiral Dalghiren was married in this city on Wednesday evening to Miss Goddard, daughter of the late Samuel Vinton, of Ohio.
The marriage which was comparatively quiet, is solemnized by Rev. Dr. Cummings at the residence.

Washington, August 4

Owing to the illness of the President, it is understood that he will make a visit to Cape May. He will not leave this evening or to-morrow.

The Commisariat appointed to visit the Indians who are afflicted with the cholera, and make payment of the claims which have been submitted to him.

New York, August 4

The Post publishes the following list of letters from the President to the Secretary of War.

I was a corporal in Company I, 6th Connticut volunteers, was captured in front of Vicksburg, July 25th, 1863, and taken to the rebel prison,
then to Belle Island, and finally to Andersonville,
where I remained from the 10th of September, 1864, until the 10th of May, 1865. While there the rebels were cruel and unfeeling, and the soldiers were starved and exposed to the elements, and were treated with the most brutal and inhuman cruelty. I was one of the few who survived, and was discharged on May 10th, 1865.
I am now a private in the 1st New York
cavalry, and am doing duty at the War Department.

PETROLEUM MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE MORNING HERALD,
Titusville, Friday Eve, August 5, 1865.

The oil market to-day seems rather inactive.
Our quotations do not vary from last evening's report. The New York market for the past few days has been looking down under the influence of a great bear movement.

Dispatches stated that United States fell from $80 10 to $78 50 on the 24 inst. Also Excelsior from $1 70 to $1 25. Western from $1 90 to $1 55.
Pithole Creek from $9 70 to $8 70. Dispatches of later date show a recovery of most of those named. United States rallied to $79 25, Pithole to $8 75, and Excelsior to $1 70.

It is alleged by the friends of the Maple Shade Company, that although the Conquette well is tipped they have a five twelfth interest in the new well that has injured theirs, and their loss will not be so serious. This seems to be confirmed by a rise in the stock.

The receipts and shipments to-day do not vary from our last report.

Grade at Well, on Creek 5 00 to 5 25
Grade at Pithole 2 75 to 3 00
Grade at Titusville 7 25 to 7 50
Grade at Titusville, (Bills included) 10 00 to 10 25
Refined in Hand 6 50 to 6 75
Naphtha 3 25 to 3 50
Refined Oil Barrels, 2 75 to 3 00
Crude Oil Barrels, 1 50 to 1 75
Hullings to this point, from Creek 4 00 to 4 25

Coal, Anthracite 14 00
Do, Bituminous 12 00
Do, L. A. Smith's 14 00 to 16 00
Lime 3 25
Water, 5 00
Crude Oil per 12 00
Barrel

The receipts and shipments by wagon and railroad for the day ending at six o'clock this evening are as follows:

Crude 300 to 350
Refined 400 to 450

Petroleum stocks to-day in New York were heavy and nearly the entire list showed marked symptoms of a decline, with slight indications of becoming stronger in the afternoon. Stocks at the following rates: Cherry Run 30, United States, $21 25, Bachman Farm, $5. Excelsior $1 50. Pit-hole, $7 90. Bradley, $5. Excelsior, $1 25. Marshall 25. Occum, $1 20. Ohio, $20. Oil Creek, $5 25. Sutherland 90.

[Special to Morning Herald]

Bankville, August 4

Stiles of Crude Oil at $2 25.

[Special to Morning Herald]

Pithole Creek, August 4

The Conquette well is now pumping 150 per day and increasing. The well that they supposed typical for is doing nothing.

[Special to Morning Herald]

Stuffer Farm, August 4

Crude Oil quiet at $1 00 to $1 25.

PITTSBURGH OIL MARKET.

Pittsburgh, August 1

The stock of oil on hand is not large. The current rates are:

Crude—20 1/2 per gallon, according to gravity, prices exchanged on returned, 25 1/2 per gallon. The present inquiry was for a return gravity. We learn from Oil City that the market was not very active. Purchases undergone no change.

Among the sales we record the following viz:
200 bbls 12 gravity at 20 1/2, packages returned 200 bbls 12 gravity at 20 1/2, without packages 1 1/2 bbls 10 gravity 25 1/2, same condition 1 1/2 bbls same gravity 2 1/2, 100 bbls, 20 1/2, without packages 1 1/2 bbls 2 1/2 gravity without barrels, 300 bbls

SATURDAY, AUGUST 5, 1885.

The English Elections and the Ballot Box.

The late elections in England have been characterized by the grossest brutality. At Chippingham, Carlisle, Sheffield and Chesham, violence was the order of the day. A correspondent of the London Star says: "Does it become us to bring our electoral system? Does it become us to answer at America? I venture to assert that at no Presidential election in our generation has there been, through the whole of the States, one tithe of the rioting this country has just seen with the almost absolute unconcern which familiarly begets." Making all due allowance for the irritation under which the above words were written, there is still sufficient in them to gratify every friend of liberal institutions as maintained and developed in this country. One by one the scales are falling from the eyes of the aristocrats who so long controlled the affairs of the island kingdom whence we derive so many of our laws and customs. A vindication coming from an enemy is a far more splendid triumph than one extorted from, or even gratuitously furnished by a friend.

Not more than two years have passed since a leading statesman publicly advocated in Parliament an extension of the elective franchise, and this he did valiantly in the very face of what was supposed to be the reaction in this country. The dragons teeth had been sowed and according to the settled convictions of the aristocrats, a plentiful harvest was to be reaped—that is, the ballot box had been put within the common grasp, and the country was ruined in consequence thereof. Reflecting minds however, in England, saw that the disorders affecting us did not come through the use of the ballot box, but through the denial of its use, and that not a single State could have succeeded if the right of voting had been fully and fairly carried out.

Doubtless the above mentioned advocate of liberal principles saw this and understood it. And the correspondent afore said further remarks: "A few words more. No riots have occurred in places where the voters bear any really large proportion to the population. No one supposes that is the electors who overthrow hustings and sack houses. In the London constituencies every householdier may be said to be a voter. Therefore we have no riots. There is no mob, but a population of men seriously interested in a contest, and having legitimate means of influencing it." Objections may be raised to the absolute correctness of this reasoning, because riots have occurred in London and elsewhere, just at the precise time when voters have been trying to exercise their rights, and yet its general correctness will hardly be questioned by any intelligent observer.

We are not glad that there have been riotous demonstrations at the English hustings but we are glad to have justice done to us, although meted out in small quantities and given grudgingly. May the day not be far distant when the oppressed working men of England shall be invested with rights more precious than the glittering insignia of nobility, and more conducive to the general good than all the bangles of a kingdom. In this stirring age we require something more than shows and sights, we want the massive, but hitherto despised strength of the people, concentrated, and directed to the elevation of their own kith and kin. We want them to lift themselves to the topmost rank of men and to well deserve such an exalted station. The heart of a true American responds to kindness; whether manifested at home or abroad, and therefore it is that we always hail with delight any practical recognition of the inherent excellencies of our political system. Flattery is despicable, and it is not this we desire. Believing that the correspondent in question is one of a class ardently devoted to the happiness of his own country, whatever may be his feeling towards us, we congratulate him on the boldness of his utterances, and we hope the time may soon come when the ballot box may be as open in England as it is in America.

—Gen. Grant and family attended church in Boston last Sabbath. He is received with the utmost cordiality and enthusiasm, wherever he appears.

—Reports from the lower Mississippi Valley say the cotton yield this year will not be above one fourth of the average crop, and of the sugar not more than one tenth. Corn will be produced beyond all previous harvests.

—The Government has taken possession of Ford's Theater. A certain amount is to be paid to Mr. Ford by the first of February, and it by that time Congress has not made an appropriation for its purchase, it is to be returned to Mr. Ford.

—Gen. Howard has issued an order, that if the planters in lower Maryland do not cease turning off their old slaves to starve, or neglect to employ them, the Government will take possession of their farms, and put freedmen to work on their land.

—Some of the 50 cent fractional currency notes of small size are so skillfully counterfeited that it is almost impossible to detect the cheat. Oh! for the hour when all these small obstructions will give place to silver.
